About

Dr. Kejing Yin is a Research Assistant Professor in the Department of Computer Science, Hong Kong Baptist University. Before his RAP appointment, he served as a Post-doctoral Research Fellow in the same department. He received his Ph.D. degree from the Department of Computer Science, Hong Kong Baptist University in 2021, and his Bachelor's degree from the South China University of Technology in 2015. He was a visiting Ph.D. student at the College of Computing at Georgia Institute of Technology from Sep. 2019 to Feb. 2020. His research interests mainly focus on machine learning for high-dimensional healthcare data analytics, including computational phenotyping and predictive analytics for large-scale electronic health records (EHR) data. He serves as a program committee member or reviewer for international conferences, including AAAI, IJCAI, NeurIPS, ICLR, and ICHI.

Research Interests

- Machine Learning for Healthcare
- Healthcare Data Analysis
- Computational Phenotyping
- Temporal Data Analysis
